

Pretty in Pink

A lovely bowl design created by Alex Lyons that's equally at home as a corporate piece or a gift, this is another example of maintaining bright colours during the autumn months. Using pretty pink Hydrangea as the base, it's a gorgeously girly design that also utilises pink and white Roses – the nation's favourite flowers – which means it can't fail to be loved! The gel balls are always a big talking point too!

Ingredients:

Pink Hydrangea, Pink Roses, White Roses, Eryngium, Pittosporum, pearl-headed pins, gel balls, glass vase.

Step 1 Start by making a simple posy, using the Hydrangea as the central focal point. Push the stems through the centre, mixing with the contrasting Pittosporum.

Step 2 Once the posy is complete, trim the stems right back so that it sits securely in the base of the vase.

Step 3 Continue by adding gel balls to the base of the container. Decorate the posy with a few pearl-headed pins and any other bling that you think is needed and place into the vase.
